GREGORY TRADING CO.

DR. DAVID B. MORGAN

Veterinary Surgeon, Dentist and Horse Educator.

Of Swansea, Wales; Late of Philadelphia, Pa.

Permanent Home, Fayetteville, Ark.

I successfully treat all diseases of horses, mules and cattle. I take up ruptures and cure water seeds, I remove all gummy growth, cure lameness in bone, spavin, ring bone, blood and bog spavin. I operate on ridgling horses and old stallions. I am prepared to extract any tooth in a horse's head.

IF YOU WANT TO KEEP FAT, SLICK HORSES HAVE THEIR TEETH FIXED.

How to know if your horse's teeth are not right: He will turn his head to one side while chewing, spill food from his mouth and slobber, have swelling or lumps on the jaw or running sores on the jaw. All big head or big jaw comes from bad teeth. Tossing the head, fighting the bit, champing the teeth, lolling the tongue, starts suddenly, stopping short, shying, driving sideways, lunging and running away are some of the bad habits caused by the mouth being out of condition, with colic, indigestion and hide bound. Cure all these habits and prevent and cure all these diseases by putting the teeth in perfect order.

IT IS NOT THE AMOUNT OF FOOD A HORSE EATS THAT MAKES HIM FAT, BUT WHAT HE DIGESTS.

Bad and irregular teeth kill many horses and cause many bad habits and diseases. The horse suffers death often from his teeth; they are hid back in his mouth so his master can't see them, and he can't talk and tell his sufferings. He is a silent sufferer.

"WE SPEAK FOR THOSE THAT CANNOT SPEAK FOR THEMSELVES."

"We should remember that all the horse gets for his services is what little he eats. He has few friends. Examination free at my office. I carry with me the most complete set of instruments on the road, and have some of the finest specimens in existence. I also have for sale a new system on the education and treatment of the horse. Price at my office, $1.00. From publishers, $1.50.

Last Thursday evening about 8 o'clock Miss Bessie Dent, daughter of J. A. Dent, heard the family dog making a great deal of fuss out in the back yard. On going out to see what agitated the canine she discovered a fellow in the act of taking the family horse out of the barn.

She called to the fellow to know what he was doing, when he ran. He had already taken the buggy out of the barn, and was putting the harness on the horse, and in a few moments more would have been gone. The barking of the dog saved the property, and so once more it is proven that a dog is some account at times.

Since that awful affair at Cincinnati, where a floor in a water closet gave way and nine children lost their lives in the vault, the school boards of every district in the country should make a rigid investigation and see that floors are solid and joists sound. We understand the floors in the big closets at the public schools in this city are not as sound as they should be. A floor may look safe, but the joists may be very weak. The NEWS demands that the board of education make a thorough investigation of the joists and flooring and see that everything is absolutely safe, and that the investigation be made at once.

One of the strongest nominations made by the Democrats at their county convention was that of A. Paxson for county commissioner in the Third district. All elements of the party seem to be very well pleased with Mr. Paxson's nomination. He is recognized as a man having the business capacity and ability with which to closely look after the county affairs. There is but little doubt that he will be elected by a safe majority. The entire business interests of the district will pull together for this opportunity for the introduction of business methods into county affairs. It is understood that Mr. Paxson favors the prompt payment of all obligations which have been incurred by the county, and the exercise of greater care hereafter in contracting bills. He will stand firmly for the practice of keeping the expenditures of the county well within the receipts.
